recallTM
Your Information. Securely Managed.

We can retrieve and deliver your most critical single documents in minutes. Our ReQuest™ Web system allows for customer descriptors, which maximize first-time search success. Your critical documents are always within reach with Pronto.

Pronto

When you have vast amounts of documents to handle but don't have the storage space or personnel to manage them, Pronto allows you to retrieve the documents you need, when you need them, wherever you need them.

Handling large volumes of documents with speed and precision

Advanced technology, combined with Recall's reliability, make Pronto extremely productive in industries such as banking, accounting, healthcare and insurance. Based on our knowledge of your industry, Recall experts will rapidly locate, retrieve and then quickly deliver your required item - such as a letter, cancelled check, government form, claim, docket, voucher, report or credit card statement.

Flexible, cost-effective retrieval options

Pronto delivers high volumes of individual documents at high speed. In addition to courier service you may choose from a number of other delivery methods, including scan-on-demand and fax-back. Such capabilities eliminate transportation costs and increase internal efficiencies for you and your company.

Complete traceability

Recall offers the option of entering a description and identifier for individual items in our ReQuest™ Web inventory management system. As such, you have the usability to track the history and location of your files at any time.
